Insurance Coverage and Bad Faith Law

Brandon concentrates his practice primarily in the areas of insurance coverage and bad faith litigation, and complex commercial and business litigation. He represents international and domestic insurance companies in a wide array of coverage disputes in trial courts and on appeal in both state and federal courts. He has litigated and counseled insurers on issues involving numerous types of commercial and personal lines insurance policies, including commercial general liability, excess and umbrella liability, first-party property, builders' risk, healthcare liability, directors and officers liability, environmental liability, auto liability, trucking liability, homeowners insurance, life insurance, and other specialty insurance products. Brandon's coverage matters have included disputes over coverage for construction defects, environmental contamination, fires, explosions, equipment failures, latent and progressive injuries, sexual abuse claims, trucking accidents, and natural disasters. He also regularly represents insurers in high-exposure bad faith claims and has litigated and handled appeals in several of the most significant bad faith cases in Pennsylvania history. Brandon's coverage practice also includes regularly providing insurance coverage opinions and advice to insurers throughout the claims handling process.

In addition to his coverage work, Brandon also has represented businesses and individuals in a wide variety of complex litigation matters, including cases involving restrictive covenants and trade secrets, securities fraud, breach of commercial contracts, professional liability of accountants, engineers and insurance brokers/agents, products liability, estates and trusts litigation, civil rights, property damage and personal injury.

Brandon is an active member of the Insurance Law Committee of DRI – The Voice of the Defense Bar and the Allegheny County Bar Association, where he has taken on multiple leadership roles. He is currently serving a three-year term as a council member for the Federal Court Section of the Allegheny County Bar Association. He also served as Program Chair for the 2023 DRI Insurance Bad Faith and Extra-Contractual Liability Seminar held in Charlotte, North Carolina. He is also a member of the Association of Defense Trial Attorneys (ADTA), a private, invitation-only, international organization of top defense trial lawyers.

Brandon regularly publishes articles and speaks at national and state-wide programs on insurance law and bad faith topics. He is also a graduate of the International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) Trial Academy, held at Stanford Law School. He has been selected as a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer Rising Star continually, each year since 2013.

During law school, Brandon completed judicial internships with the Honorable Joy Flowers Conti of the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania and the Honorable John A. Zottola of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania. He also served as a law clerk for the staff counsel for a major insurance company.
